

A BRILLIANT WEDDING.

Hon. L. von Tempsky and Miss Wodehouse United in Marriage.

Monday evening the Hon. Louis von Tempsky, second son of the late Col. von Tempsky of New Zealand, and Miss Amy Dulcebella Wodehouse, second daughter of H. B. M.'s Commissioner, Major J. H. Wodehouse and Mrs. Wodehouse, were united in marriage at St. Andrew's Cathedral. The chancel of the Cathedral was beautifully decorated with evergreens and choice flowers. The desks of the two front pews in the nave were covered with roses of many varieties. The effect was very pretty.

The ceremony at the Cathedral was witnessed by only the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The bride entered the church punctually at 7 o'clock and walked up the aisle leaning on the arm of her father. At the chancel she was met by the bridegroom who was attended by his brother, Mr. Randall von Tempsky, as best man. Miss Ethel Wodehouse was maid of honor and the Misses Lila Wodehouse and Mollie Atkinson, bridesmaids.

The ceremony was performed with much impressiveness by the Rev. Alex. Mackintosh and Mr. Wray Taylor presided at the organ, playing the Lohengrin Bridal March, Wedding Chorus from Cowen's Rose Maiden and Mendelssohn's Wedding March. The bride was given away by her father. She looked lovely in her bridal dress of white silk covered with chiffon, caught up with myrtle blossoms. Her ornaments were diamonds, and the bouquet consisted of plumerias and maiden hair ferns. The maid of honor wore white bengaline and carried a bouquet of yellow roses, while the bridesmaids had each a handsome horse-shoe of violets.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the family residence on Euna street, where a reception was held from 8 to 10 o'clock, and the newly married couple were congratulated by their numerous friends. The front of the house was tastefully illuminated with colored lanterns, while the interior was most elaborately decorated throughout with choice flowers and evergreens. The invited guests were warmly welcomed by Major and Mrs. Wodehouse, and Messrs. J. H. Jr. and Ernest Wodehouse. Mr. and Mrs. von Tempsky received in the front parlor. A large number of our prominent people were present including H. R. H. the Prince Consort, members of Her Majesty's Cabinet, the diplomatic and consular corps, Major J. W. Robertson Her Majesty's Chamberlain, officers of the U. S. S. Iroquois, etc. The wedding presents were numerous and of the most valuable nature. Refreshments were served in the dining room. The Royal Hawaiian Band was stationed in the grounds and played appropriate music during the reception.

The ADVERTISER tenders its hearty congratulations to the Hon. and Mrs. von Tempsky.

Present Appearance of the Volcano.

A correspondent who lately visited Kilauea, sends the following interesting account of the present condition of the crater:

"The molten lava disappeared from Kilauea March 6, 1891, just as it did March 6, 1886, the interval being five years to the day. Halemaumau is now a chasm, as it was five years ago; almost as deep and large as it then was; only it had then a talus extending in two places from brink to bottom, whereas the talus now extends from one-third of the way down to the bottom. A steep precipice encloses the upper part of the chasm. Descent into the chasm would require considerable prior excavating. A small crater within the large crater of Kilauea is what Halemaumau now is; the small crater being much the same in depth and size as in 1886, viz., 400 or 500 feet deep and $\frac{1}{2}$ of a mile long and $\frac{1}{4}$ mile wide. This estimate, however, is pure guess-work.

In 1891, the chasm was smoking twelve days after the disappearance of the molten lava; whereas twelve days after the disappearance of the molten lava in 1886 there was no smoke at all—a fact which suggests the hope that the fire will ere long return to its old hearthstone. The chasm is also clean cut, almost circular, can be taken in at a single view and for impressiveness reminds those who have seen the latter of the Mokuaweoweo crater on the summit of Maunaloa.

"Numerous light earthquakes have accompanied this emptying of Halemaumau, the heaviest being at the Kau Half-way House and at Kapapala. The liquid fire which has appeared nowhere above ground, has in all likelihood run off into underground passages in the direction of Kau."

Presented to the Queen.

Her Majesty the Queen granted Major James H. Wodehouse, H. B. M.'s Commissioner and Consul-General, an interview Thursday forenoon when he presented to the Queen, Major Charles Russell of the Royal Artillery, Mrs. Sidney Alice Hulton, Mr. Reginald E. Hulton, and Mr. Theophilus H. Davies.

HILO NEWS.

The Volcano Road—Water Improvements—False Statements—Literary.

[From the Hilo Record.]

Mr. Bruner has returned from his survey of the Volcano road, having finished the same. From him we learn that the route through the woods continues to the Bullock pen, seven and one half miles from the crater. That there is good material easily obtained all along the route, and after the road emerges from the forest there is coarse sand and good road-bed material from thence to the crater. He makes his new route some two miles shorter than the one laid out at first.

Now comes the question, will work be commenced on it? There will be about eleven months for work on this road before the end of the fiscal year, and that is not long enough to finish the road. So the matter will have to come before the Legislature at its next session. It is this dilatoriness in pushing work which, we consider, the greatest fault with the Minister of the Interior. Work on this road should have been commenced at least by the first of January last—almost six months have passed and no active work done.

From present appearances it will be a long time before a pick is to be started on it. Hilo people may all be "cranks" (see Bulletin), but still their crankiness runs in reasonable channels. This road is one which will be of great benefit to the public generally, and not solely for "Hilo cranks."

We are continually asking tourists to come here, and yet shut up our greatest wonder to them. Come "Charley," hurry up this work. The work on our water pipes is progressing, the van of the workmen having reached the head of Waiannene street this morning. The work seems to be done in a good and efficient manner. The work of laying the pipes through the streets will progress faster than hitherto as a good deal of rock cutting has had to be done on the mauka end.

Our weather the past two weeks has been the cause of a good deal of sickness; cold rains one day, and warm southerly weather the next. Severe colds are the order of the day.

Bush in his paper has published some outrageously false statements in reference to the Hamakua death of a kanaka and the treatment of the leper murderer while in Hilo Jail.

We believe that those utterances are from the pen of that renegade, E. Kekoa, as he seems to be Bush's right hand man. Hilo people know what E. Kekoa is. Such published articles only stir up ill-feeling between the foreigner and native, and ought not to be allowed.

The literary held last Saturday evening was well attended, even if it did rain. The programme was a very enjoyable one. The next meeting will be in two weeks, and will be a Shakespeare evening.

Resigns the Pastorate.

After his evening sermon last Sabbath, Dr. E. C. Oggel presented his resignation to the congregation of the Green Stone Church, of which he has been the pastor for nearly three years, to accept a call to the pastorate of the First Reformed Church of St. Thomas, West Indies. The pastor's request was reluctantly granted. Dr. and Mrs. Oggel expect to leave New York about April 1, in a steamer of the Brazilian line, for their home in the West Indies.

It is almost needless for us to say that Dr. Oggel's relations to the Pullman Church are now and always have been very pleasant and most harmonious. He loves his church, and is held in the highest esteem by his congregation, which, while sorrowing at his departure, we wish him the abundant success he deserves in his new and distant field of work. Mr. Oggel seems partial to the tropics, having spent some years in the Sandwich Islands. He goes from among us holding the affectionate regard of every one so fortunate as to know him. Our prayer (for editors sometimes pray, notwithstanding a popular opinion to the contrary) is that he may always be blessed and prospered in the good work to which he has consecrated his life.—[Pullman Journal, Mar. 7.]

Who Is He?

A correspondent of the Manchester (Eng.) City News writing to that paper making corrections as to age and name of the Princess Kaiulani, adds the following:

A native of the Sandwich Isles can be seen almost every day in the year selling matches in front of the Imperial Hotel, Piccadilly, Manchester. Poor Joe, who is a living tottler, was brought to this country many years ago by the renowned Barnum. Many people will remember him as an attendant upon General Tom Thumb. Joe, settled in this town, married, and has a large family, but in his old age he has a great craving to return to his native land. His name is to be found among the contributors to the Cotton Famine Relief Fund, but misfortune has overtaken him, and though always ready in his younger days to render relief to those who required it, is now compelled to eke out a scanty subsistence by the sale of matches.

Possibly something could be done for him out of the appropriation for the return of indigent Hawaiians.

LOCUSTS IN AUSTRALIA.

Some of the Efforts to Destroy Them.

In order to check, if possible, the annual plague of locusts that devour the herbage and blast the hopes of graziers, farmers and fruit-growers to a greater or less extent in December, the Victorian Government proclaimed the 7th and 8th of November as holidays for the scholars and schoolmasters in the rural districts, in order that they might co-operate with the settlers in destroying the young locusts in the early stage of their development before they had been equipped with wings, enabling them to take a flight over the country to begin their work of devastation.

With this end in view preparations were made in numerous parts of the interior to destroy the pests in various ways, such as beating with branches the beds in the fields where the as yet wingless creatures were known to exist, or harrowing the ground, or turning flocks of sheep upon the land and moving them rapidly about so as to tread upon and kill or injure the young brood, and also by spreading straw over the plague spots and setting fire to it. Recently the reports came that the creatures massed themselves so thickly along some of the lines of railways that, although the brakes were shut down, the train could not be brought to a stand still until they had gone half a mile beyond the stations owing to the multitudes crushed beneath the wheels, causing the trains to pass along as if the rails were covered with oil. The wheels actually slid along the rails. In many of the northern towns the inhabitants had to close their doors to keep out the invading hosts.—[Pall Mall Budget.]

WHAT IS NEWS.

The Youth's Companion tells this story: An ingenious editor of a large and successful daily, who would be recognized as one of the best newspaper men in the United States if his name were mentioned, recently had occasion to employ some new reporters. Many men applied, all of whom he called into his sanctum, and, paying no attention to their letters of recommendation, gave each one of them a writing pad at the head of which was the question: "What is news?" "Half an hour to answer that question, young gentlemen. Then I shall know how to make my choice."

There was some lively scratching for thirty minutes, and the result of the newspaper examination was intensely interesting. Some of the answers of the successful competitors are suggestive. Here are a few of them:

"News is anything that the general public ought to know."

"News consists of events that are either usual or very unusual."

"News is the daily record of the human race put into convenient shape for the public."

"News is the panorama of the world every twenty-four hours in embryo."

"News is whatever the public will read and pay for."

"News is anything from Jones' arrival in town to the fall of an empire."

"News is historical fact. It is what occurs; not what is imagined."

"News is truth concerning men, nations and things. That is, truth concerning them which is helpful, or pleasant, or useful, or necessary for a reader to know."

This last definition pleased the editor very much.

Each of these definitions is good and it matters not which the reader may prefer; according to any one of them the news is found in the pages of the DAILY ADVERTISER.
